MONDAY MORNING, NOV 10 1862

FROM BOISE MINES.—A rumor was in circulation, last evening, on the street, that some miners had arrived on the Julia the night previous, who reported glowing accounts from the mines on Boise river stating that very rich and extensive diggings had been discovered, and that everybody in the upper Columbia river country were rushing to these mines We went in pursuit of the item as soon as we heard of it, but after much inquiry, were at last forced to the conviction that the story "needed confirmation" The best and most that we could learn was, that a gentleman arrived at the Dalles on Thursday evening last, from Auburn, Powder river, who stated that very flattering accounts had been received from a party who had prospected Boise river, and returned to Powder, and that in consequence, a considerable number of people were leaving Grand Ronde and Powder river for the new diggings on Boise—Provisions are reported to be scarce at Grand Ronde and Powder river, and serious fears are entertained that much suffering will be experienced in consequence, unless a very large amount can be got there very soon. The snows on the mountains are already reported to have fallen to considerable depth, rendering travel very difficult if not impossible for pack trains The scarcity of provisions has been occasioned by the arrival and settlement of a very large number of emigrants in that region this fall. We regret to hear such stories, and hope they may not be true, though we fear that merchants and traders in that region have not been able to lay in large amounts, or if able, did not perceive the necessity until it was too late to have them shipped We hope that the reports from Boise river may be true, but deem it too late in the season to sufficiently test these mines, or for parties to undertake to reach there with supplies sufficient to last them during the winter, and unless there is a positive certainty of getting a bountiful supply of provisions to these mines before the extreme cold sets in, we would advise all parties to stay away until spring opens the way

It will be remembered that we published several days since, an item from the Golden Age, relative to the practicability of navigating Snake river from Lewiston to Fort Boise An exploring party had partially explored and examined the river between these points, and reported it as their belief that steamers of light draft could make the trip without much difficulty. One or two short portages may have to be made over rapids, or very rocky, narrow and swift places, but it was thought that only one or two such rapids would interrupt the way. If it is found upon trial that steamers can be run from Lewiston to Boise, it will furnish great advantages in the future development and usefulness of that immense section of country which has heretofore only been inhabited by the wild savages of the plains.

There must be a large extent of arable and farming lands in that region, interspersed as it is with many rich valleys and grass producing table lands, besides the mineral wealth which is reported to exist over nearly the whole country. Probably before the lapse of another summer, that far distant, wild, savage land, which weremember to have traveled over so wearily some ten years ago, will be settled and improved by hundreds, yea, perhaps thousands of enlightened people, and what was then a vast, dreary plain will soon be teeming with the hardy American yeomanry, and the busy hum of thousands of toiling miners will greet the ear and gladden the sight of the traveler, while the "wo-haw gee" of the western farmer will be heard upon every valley and plain.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.—We learned from a gentleman last evening, that an old man by the name of Near, residing in Columbia county, recently undertook to murder his whole family, wife, son and daughter, the latter of whom was some fourteen years of age He is reported to have horribly beaten his daughter, leaving her mangled and senseless body all covered with blood and wounds, after which he undertook to serve his son in like manner, but the boy fortunately escaped without serious injury He next procured a gun and tried to shoot his wife, but was prevented by the timely arrival of some neighbors, who rescued the wife and family from further violence. Near was taken up and tried, and although the evidence of his guilt was clearly proven, yet as the county would have been compelled to keep him until next spring at a heavy cost, it was thought best by the court to let him go provided he would leave the county, which he did, going in the direction of Shoalwater Bay The old man has been supposed to be partially insane for several years past, which may account for the horrible deed.

Just before dying, Colonel Miles said to the Colonel of the 87th "Colonel, there have been many imputations cast upon my loyalty; but if I have erred, my errors have been from the head, and not from the heart"

[SPECIAL DISPATCH [illegible]]

LATER FROM THE EAST.

NEW YORK, Nov 3—Port Royal dates to October 29th says that two British steamers Minho and Scotia have been captured. They are valued at $1,000,000 It is reported at Port Royal that a rebel [illegible] coming down the river from Savannah.

BOSTON, Nov [illegible] [illegible] from [illegible] [illegible] pirate Alabama [illegible] [illegible] the Confederate States [illegible] rest [illegible]

Among those [illegible] was the sloop [illegible] Liverpool. She was [illegible] for $8,000.

The captain of one of the vessels captured was informed by the officers of the [illegible] that her next destination was New York [illegible] there a few [illegible] He [illegible] released the [illegible] He [illegible] captured and burnt [illegible]

LOUISVILLE, Nov 2—A Bowling Green correspondent says Gen. [illegible] arrived [illegible] [illegible] Gen. [illegible] through [illegible] on Saturday, en route for Nashville.

It is reported that the rebels have destroyed two tunnels [illegible] Nashville [illegible] on the track [illegible] above Gallatin, Tennessee.

The Very Latest.

NEW YORK, Nov 2—The Herald's dispatch says the rebels have been driven from Philomont Loudon county, but have a large force between there and Snicker's Gap

A Percivalle dispatch, dated the 1st says there is a large rebel force in the Shenandoah Valley, just above the Gap [illegible] has been heard in that direction

It was supposed that Bayard's and Stuart's cavalry were engaged, as Stuart passed through the Gap the day previous with several thousand cavalry, and four pieces of artillery, encamped at Union, and yesterday passed down the valley

WASHINGTON Nov 3.—A dispatch from the Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac dated 2d, says Gen. Pleasanton came up with the enemy's cavalry and artillery at ten o'clock yesterday, at Philomont The fight was conducted wholly by artillery, and lasted five hours, when the enemy retired to Union, a small town three miles beyond

Our loss was only one killed and fourteen wounded Five of the enemy are known to have been killed.

At 8 o'clock this morning Gen Pleasanton renewed the attack During the forenoon he was reinforced by a brigade of infantry At 1 o'clock the rebels fell back, and our troops occupied the town of Union

Another portion of our army took possession of Snicker's Gap to day

Three brigades of rebels were at latest accounts advancing up the west side of the mountain, in two columns Firing followed, but no more is known

A special dispatch says that the rebels are making demonstrations towards Manassas, and had run off a train from Bull Run bridge

BOSTON, Nov 3d—The last seen of the pirate Alabama was in longitude 69, and latitude 39, steering northwest, under full head of steam and sail

WASHINGTON, Nov 3d—A dispatch from Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, dated 21st, to the President, says Gen McClellan telegraphs from Snickers Gap, stating that he has full possession of that position When Gen Hancock arrived there, it was held by the enemy's cavalry, who were driven out by a column of five or six thousand infantry. The rebels advanced to retake, but were dispersed by our rifled cannons The position is a strong one

It is said Generals Jackson and Hill are in the valley opposite Gen Pleasanton had driven the enemy's cavalry several miles beyond Union, at this afternoon, capturing several of their wounded and exploding one of their caissons, (Signed,) MARCY, Chief of Staff

CAIRO, Nov. 3d—A dispatch from Jackson Tenn, dated 2d, says that news received at Grant's headquarters yesterday, from the South, via Rienci, confirms the capture of Mobile

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 3d.—The Washington Star says Last night's advance of Army of the Potomac, under Burnside and Porter, doubtless camped upon the line of the Alexandria and Winchester Turnpike from Upperville, three miles in front of Ashby's Gap down to Middletown, a distance of 10 miles Their cavalry must have halted for the night very near, if not on the line of the Manassas Gap Railroad, somewhere between Front Royal and Thoroughfare Gap

Sigel's force must have advanced on the same railroad to Thoroughfare Gap before nightfall, while Sickles was doubtless advancing in rear of Sigel

The march of Sickle's division yesterday from before Alexandria to extreme front reflects great credit on it

New York, Nov 4th.—The Herald's special from Wheatland, Va, 28, says McClellan reconnoitred enemy from the front this evening. Pleasanton's cavalry supported by a brigade of Doubleday's division drove rebels from their position, they contesting ground with considerable spirit Jackson and Longstreet are just beyond Snicker's Gap with large force

HARPER'S FERRY Nov 2—No enemy opposed our advance until it reached Snickersville, when they retreated to the western side. As our column reached the crest of the hill, a body of rebel cavalry, one battery and two brigades of infantry emerged from the woods in the direction of Winchester, but they retreated when fire was opened on them It is evident they intended to dispute possession of Snicker's Gap, but were too late.

The impression seems to be general that there will be a battle tomorrow

WASHINGTON Nov 4th.—Four rebel mail carriers were arrested with a large mail, destined for Alabama, Virginia and other rebel States, while attempting to cross into Virginia

FAIRFAX VA Nov. 4th—Our cavalry under Gen Stahl drove the enemy out of Thoroughfare Gap, and Gen Sigel's division took possession of it, No enemy in sight last evening. Our cavalry also held Bull's land's Mills, where the rebels had a strong force—Bayard's cavalry holds Aldie and country between that point and Sigel's advance

NEW YORK, Nov 4th—Gen Mitchell died at Beaufort, S C, Oct 30th, of yellow fever, which prevailed there

OSWEGO, N Y Nov 3rd—The propeller Bay State and six schooners were wrecked last night, and several persons perished.

BUFFALO, Nov 4th—The result of the election not yet ascertained The indications are that Seymour has a large majority in New York city. The two Woods and [illegible] are believed to be elected to Congress.

New Jersey, so far as heard from, has gone largely Democratic

Michigan, so far, returns indicate the election of the entire Republican ticket by 5,000 majority.

Illinois returns are meagre Arnold Republican, is elected in Chicago district for Congress by 1,000 to 1,500 majority

WASHINGTON Nov 1—A dispatch to headquarters [illegible] the Army of the Potomac [illegible] says Stuart with two thousand cavalry attacked a small force of our cavalry between [illegible] and Aldie driving them towards the [illegible]

NEW YORK Nov 1—A special dispatch from Washington to the [illegible] says [illegible] the National Intelligencer will contain a statement [illegible] President Lincoln in reply to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Southern States [illegible] [illegible] forts [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] North Carolina state that Governor Stanly has [illegible] an interview with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] commissioners [illegible] affairs

A circular has been published from Secretary Seward to the diplomatic consular agents relative to the emancipation proclamation He draws hopeful conclusions from the present condition of affairs, and says the rebels must understand that if they persist in [illegible] a choice between the dissolution of the Government and the abolition of slavery it is Union [illegible] must be maintained While all [illegible] men of all countries must [illegible] the measure as a just and proper military act intended to deliver this country from terrible war [illegible] at the same time the [illegible] with which the Government proceeds [illegible] solemn act

The London Times says Seward's circular deprives the American Government of the right hereafter to appeal to its emancipation decree as a measure founded on moral principles, as Seward reduces it to a mere military act

In another article the Times shows the inexpediency of a recognition of the South at present

A proposition before the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce in favor of memorializing the Government to recognize the South, has been withdrawn

It was reported that Confederate privateers were in the Mediterranean, and had already captured a dozen Federal vessels. This report may have arisen from the destruction of whaling vessels by the Alabama, already telegraphed

A STRANGE STORY.—It appears that one Maj Key, on Gen Halleck's staff and a brother to Col Thomas M Key, of Gen McClellan's staff, (a Kentuckian, but who was appointed from Ohio) on being asked why Gen McClellan did not pursue the rebels after the battle of Antietam, said "If he had done so he would have destroyed their entire army, and thus ended the war, and it is not desirable to end it now, because the South would be forced by the Abolitionists to conditions to which no gentleman ought to be obliged to submit." Or as the New York Times has it, he said "the immediate destruction of the rebel army was not the programme It would be better to let the war linger on indecisively, and with advantages on both sides, until the end of Mr Lincoln's term, when it could be settled on a compromise which would save slavery" The officer to whom these remarks were made paid no particular attention to them—such utterances being unfortunately too familiar in certain circles of the army—But Secretary Chase heard it, and told the President. The officer to whom Key spoke thus was sent for, and his version of the story taken down by the President's Private Secretary Then Key was sent for—the statement read to him—and he acknowledged these to be his words or their spirit, after which he commenced launching out into a general vindication of the sacredness of the institution of slavery, and the justifiability of the policy of inaction or any other policy which had for its object to preserve it "Stop sir!" interrupted Mr Lincoln, "I have not sent for you to discuss with you the abstract question of slavery, its sacredness or the reverse But I am clearly of the opinion that no officer can wear shoulder straps under my commission, who does not believe in the policy of winning decisive victories, whenever they are to be had. You may go, sir, you shall hear from me" And on that day, Key was dismissed from the service

STEAMBOAT — [illegible] yesterday morning about 5 o'clock [illegible] a number of tar barrels on the bank of the river in the lower part of the city, which [illegible] raised the alarm of fire. The different fire bells were tolled long and loudly, and we [illegible] general turn out [illegible] was discovered. It was almost [illegible] to call the "boys" out of their good warm beds at such an early hour on that cold morning, and we doubt not no little or few curses were pronounced upon the individual [illegible] raised the false alarm; however, we suppose that several had an opportunity of seeing and feeling what kind of atmosphere pervades the city on a cold, foggy morning in November.

NEW WAGON ROAD.—We learn that Gen. John F. Miller, one of the corporators of the Portland and Dalles Wagon Road Company, has just completed a survey of the route for said road, and reports the perfect practicability for the opening and construction of a good wagon road over the entire route. No serious obstacle was found in the way, and when completed it can be traveled with great ease by teams and wagons of any size or description. We are truly glad to hear that such are the facts, as the successful construction of this road is of the utmost importance to our city and the whole country through which it passes. Such an improvement will prove beneficial to the whole State, and the gentlemen engaged therein deserve and should receive the support and encouragement of all our citizens.

COMMUNICATED.—The San Francisco Evening Journal of October 31st says, it is settled that the weekly Mountain Democrat, published in Placerville, and the Oregon Union, published at Corvallis, Oregon, are hereafter to be denied transportation [illegible] the mails and express companies.

[illegible] treasonable sheets, perhaps not half so bold and defiant as the Union, have been "squelched" by order of Gen. Wright, we see no reason why that paper should be suffered to disgrace the State, or encumber our mails with its hated and poisonous treason [illegible] presence.

THE FATE OF THE SECOND REGIMENT.—The career of the Second Wisconsin Regiment is practically ended. All that remains of the eleven hundred who left Wisconsin a little more than twelve months ago are fifty-nine war-worn and battle-grimed men. Almost every blood-stained field of Maryland and Virginia is enriched by the bones of the dead from that noble regiment. There were ten over-flowing companies when the regiment left the State.—Milwaukee News.

HOW TO SAY IT.—The Baltimore American [illegible] that the last great battle field should, as somebody has stated, be pronounced An-tee-tam, and adds, "The accent should be, not on the last, but on the middle syllable, thus, An-tee-tam." This is not only a correct etymology, but also gives the name of the great battle field a euphoneous sound.

One of the novelties at the Chicago Horse Fair is twenty-four wild buffaloes from the Far West. They were to be let loose on the grounds, and a grand lasso hunt was to take place.

Gen. Wadsworth, Republican candidate for Governor of New York, said: "We want peace, but more than we want peace, we want a country."
